OPIUM SMUGGLING.

What the Commissioner of the San Francisco Examiner Discovered

During His Tour of Investigation --Victoria the Head Centre of the Traffic.

During the past month a special commissioner was detailed by the San Francisco Examiner to proceed to Oregon, Washington Territory and British Columbia, there to ferret out and investigate the inner workings of the opium smuggling syndicates. No expense was spared and from the exaggerated statements published there can be no doubt that a live American newspaper reporter was selected to work up the case. The commissioner commenced his work in Portland, where Collectors Abraham and Pike were interviewed. The collectors stated that they believed Fogarty, deputy collector of customs at San Francisco, had charge of the opium business. They have every facility for the detection of smuggling. Another proof that smuggling is being carried on lies in the fact that in Victoria the best prepared opium is worth only $8 per lb. and the duty $10 per lb., making the value when landed in the United States through the custom house $18 per lb. An examination of the books in Portland shows that 700 lbs. has been seized during the past six months, which was sold at auction for $7210. The collectors stated that Victoria was a hot-bed of smugglers, and a man named John Orr was being closely watched on account of the frequent trips made between Port Townsend and Portland.

From Portland the commissioner proceeded to Seattle, where a man named Cook furnished information. He stated that hundreds are engaged in the traffic. At Seattle an individual named Greenleaf is agent for the great syndicate of opium smugglers. He receives the opium and forwards it to Portland and San Francisco. From Seattle the reporter proceeded to Port Townsend. Here were found Collectors Brooks and Luther on whose shoulders the Examiner places the whole blame for the opium traffic on Puget Sound. Everything necessary to prevent smuggling is in the hands of these officials. They have power, men and a revenue cutter and still contraband opium is landed under their noses. Luther has twenty-six men at his command and succeeded in seizing 11,900 pounds of opium. According to the books only [illegible] pounds passed through in a legitimate manner during the past twenty years.

From Port Townsend the commissioner crossed to Victoria where he found that his work was only begun. That which had gone before was a mere nothing compared with the dangers to be faced and a stout heart was needed. For three days the commissioner surveyed the field but on the fourth a conversation was held with a barber, who displayed a profound knowledge of opium smuggling; the barber was furnished with money and sent to Port Townsend to reconnoitre the ground; the object being to find a safe spot on the American side on which to land opium, and to find out whether a Port Townsend banker was in the ring. Another three days were spent in Victoria awaiting the return of Winner, the barber. At the end of that time Winner returned with the information that there was no road between Dungeness and Port Townsend, but there were many places where opium could be landed in safety. According to the Examiner he then proposed to commit a burglary in the barber shop wherein he was employed. He declared that there was $400 in the safe which could easily be secured by simply breaking open the shop. He asked the Commissioner to become a partner in the contemplated crime and declared his intention of breaking into the shop alone if the newspaper man refused the invitation.

Mr. Winner was interviewed this morning by a TIMES representative and gives the following account of this portion of the Examiner's story: "A man came to Messrs. Geiger & Becker's barber shop to be shaved. I attended to him and he became very friendly. He was about 21 years of age and proposed that I should go to the Sound and get some idea about smuggling opium and find a road from Dungeness to Port Townsend. I went over and stayed a few days. When I returned I told him there was no road between these two settlements. One day he stated that the safe in the barber shop was very old fashioned and could be easily opened. This was the only conversation we had on this matter. He is in San Francisco and I cannot reach him with the law, but the clearest proof of the falseness of his statement is that the safe was not broken into."

The Examiner continues that Consul Stevens cordially greeted the commissioner and declared that the infamous traffic between the two countries amounted to a loss of $1,000,000 yearly to the United States. The Consul advanced as his opinion that the only way to stop smuggling is to make it unprofitable by reducing the duty from its present standard of $10 a pound to $3 a pound. The profits would then be too small to form great rings, bribe government officials and run chances of serving a few years in prison. Consul Stevens' experience with the smuggling rings has been that some time ago the Treasury Department requested some information from him, which he furnished, at the same time sending a report to the State Department offering, if the Treasury Department would send two special agents to Victoria, to take charge of them and make a determined effort to break up the traffic. This was outside of his official duties, but in the interests of justice Consul Stevens was willing to take upon himself the extra work. His report was approved by the Department of State and sent to the Treasury Department. The Treasury officials sent it to the Collector at Port Townsend for his opinion, and that was the last ever heard of it. Some time ago a reliable American citizen gave Consul Stevens positive information that a schooner was leaving Nanaimo with $20,000 worth of opium. Information was immediately forwarded to San Francisco but nothing was found on the schooner when searched. A Chinaman named Ling assisted the commissioner and divulged the information that Alaska was employed by smugglers as a route to secretly smuggle opium into the United States. Ling informed the commission that Mr. Joslyn was in the business on a large scale, and that he was a partner of Edwin O. Gardiner who was recently captured with a consignment of $20,000 worth of opium. Mr. Joslyn was interviewed but refused to take part with the commissioner in smuggling opium. He stated that he had enough to do to attend to getting his own stuff over without taking contracts for other people. When asked about taking opium down the coast to San Francisco, he said: That was a good route before Fogerty let himself get caught, but with him in trouble there and Gardiner arrested back east he was afraid the Sound was the only route open. There was no necessity of seeing the Port Townsend people when the stuff can be got in any way." The commissioner considers that Collectors Beecher, Brooks and Luther are unfitted for their positions and that their supposed vigilance is a hollow sham. Gardiner has been a resident of Seattle for five years, of which the first two were spent on the police force, the next two in the customs service under Beecher, and the last year in travelling about the country, ostensibly for the improvement of his health. His record otherwise was clean and reputable. He would have been nominated for Chief of Police in 1885, but declined. Last year he built an elegant cottage here, but has never occupied it, his family being east with him. When arrested he telegraphed extensively to friends here, to Beecher, and to Colonel J. C. Haines, a keen, bright criminal lawyer, who, at Gardiner's solicitation, has gone to New York to conduct the defense. Gardiner telegraphed that he was all right; that he was serving the Government and would make a pile of money out of the present affair, but the indications now are that he would be awfully tickled to get out of it without a dollar. E. A. Gardiner has been suspected for a long time, but, as far as heard from, no local effort was ever made to entrap him. Special Agent Beecher was a warm and intimate friend of Gardiner's, and their names have frequently been coupled in connection with opium smuggling. So, also, with Collector Brooks. Efforts are now being made to get the matter into court with a view to the exposure and punishment of the guilty parties and the destruction of the traffic.

GERMANY'S EMPEROR.

Frederick III and the Empress Victoria Leave San Remo Today for Berlin.

The Kaiser's Remains Embalmed and Lies in State in the Hall of the Palace Royal.

EMPEROR FREDERICK III.

San Remo, March 10—Emperor Frederick III. passed a good night and is extremely well this morning. He rose early and preparations having been completed he took a special train for Berlin, accompanied by Empress Victoria. Every precaution has been taken to ensure His Majesty against a relapse. The physicians who have been in attendance at Villa Seiro are on the train with His Imperial Majesty.

LEAVES SAN REMO.

The largest crowd ever seen in San Remo was at the station and witnessed the departure amid enthusiastic cheering.

LYING IN STATE.

Berlin, March 10—The body of Emperor William has been embalmed and now lies in state in the hall of the palace. His features are placid, showing no sign of the pain he suffered.

THE EMPEROR'S DEATH.

Berlin, March 9—The Emperor died holding the hand of the Empress Augusta, the members of the royal family excepting the Crown Prince, being gathered at his bedside. Prince William stood nearest, half bending over the dying man. During his last hours he suffered no pain but was in a state of alternate delirium and consciousness. Once he mistook Prince Bismarck for the Crown Prince, and taking his hand pleaded with him to be always kind to the Czar. Afterwards he recognized the Cancellor and expressed brokenly his satisfaction with the Austro-German alliance. About 5 p. m. he talked so much that the Duchess of Baden expressed a fear that he would thus tire himself. The Emperor replied, "I have time to be tired." The funeral will probably take place on Thursday the 15th inst.

Upon the receipt of the news of the Emperor's death, the Crown Princess rushed into the garden of the royal villa, weeping bitterly. Composing herself she returned to the house and informed the Crown Prince, who immediately dispatched Dr. Kraus to Berlin to make arrangements for his return to the capitol.

IN THE REICHSTAG

Prince Bismarck announced briefly, but most eloquently, and with an extraordinary show of feeling the Emperor's death. He said "in consequence of the demise of the Emperor, the Prussian throne and with this, according to article 2 of the Imperial constitution, the Imperial dignity has fallen upon His Majesty Frederick III., King of Prussia. Telegraphic intelligence received by me allows of the assumption that the reigning Emperor and King will leave San Remo to-morrow and arrive in due course in Berlin."

EXPRESSIONS OF CONDOLENCE.

Vienna, March 8—The Austrian Reichrath adjourned to-day upon the announcement of Emperor William's death.

Paris, March 9—President Carnot has telegraphed his condolence upon the death of Emperor William to the new Emperor, Frederick III, at San Remo.

Washington, March 9—Secretary Bayard this afternoon sent the following dispatch to Minister Pendleton, at Berlin: "The President desires you to make known, through the foreign office, that the death of the illustrious and venerable Emperor of Germany has deeply aroused the sorrow and sympathy of the people of the United States and their government."

The Emperor left a personal fortune of 300,000,000 marks in cash.

CANADIAN HAPPENINGS.

ANOTHER MEMBER TO THE FAMILY.

Ottawa, March 9—Sir John Macdonald acknowledged in the House of Commons this afternoon that overtures have been made to Newfoundland to send delegates to Ottawa to discuss the question of uniting with the Dominion. Sir Richard Cartwright said that the House had been treated with scant courtesy. Observing that the announcement of this important matter was made first in the newspapers and unknown to parliament.

NEWFOUNDLAND AND CONFEDERATION.

St. John's, N. B., March 9—Governor Blake has received the following telegram from Lord Lansdowne: "It is considered by my government that if your government approves the present time would be most convenient for the discussion of the admission of Newfoundland to the Federal Union and that no difficulty would be likely to arise in arranging terms. Under these circumstances would you send a deputation to Ottawa with power to negotiate. In our opinion the deputation should represent the opposition as well as the ministerial party. As the Canadian session has begun and may be short we would suggest the expediency of a deputation sailing on the steamer of the 15th instant. (Signed) LANSDOWNE." Governor Blake replied as follows: "I have received your telegram and laid it before my ministry." This correspondence is causing a sensation.

"Bargains" in Lots.

A gentleman, well known in this city, who has just returned from Southern California, whither he went to invest in Los Angeles lots and to prospect the California boom for himself, says that he was offered a "bargain" in Los Angeles in a lot that was held at $4,000 a front foot. Land in the open country twelve miles from town was finding a ready sale at $100 a foot, and money was being loaned at 12 per cent. It is needless to say that the values mentioned entirely are speculative, and that sooner or later there will come a crash such as caused Winnipeg after the speculative years of 1881-82.

—Kurtz's Jubilee Cigars are now ready.

UNITED STATES NEWS.

SOUTH AMERICAN NEWS.

San Francisco, March 10—The steamer Colima arrived from Panama this morning. A Venezuelan paper says: We are authorized to state that the government is in receipt of official communications which state that the boundary question between Venezuela and England is in a fair way of settlement and that all rumors to the contrary are false. The Peruvian government still seems to be unable to cope with the paper currency situation. No one cares to receive this money at any price. The amount in circulation is variously estimated at from fifty to sixty millions.

Y., for smuggling opium, has made his report, in which he says: After careful examination I am clearly of the opinion that E. A. Gardner and perhaps one or two others from the west, Epriam Gardner and others, are the principal parties connected with this smuggling gang. I see nothing to indicate that there is a wealthy syndicate behind, as has been reported.

Together with other creditors he had been unable to get any pay for his work. He withheld some bonds and papers, refusing to give them up until he was paid. Yesterday he presented himself to Alexander and offered to give up the papers if paid. Words ensued and resulted in Craven being shot.

THOUSANDS PERISH IN CHINA.

San Francisco, March 10.—The steamer City of Sydney, which arrived from China and Japan late last night, brings details of the earthquake which occurred on the 15th of December last in the Province of Yurran. The departmental city is said to have been reduced to a mass of ruins, scarcely a house escaping without some damage. Over five thousand persons are reported to have been killed by falling buildings, many being buried under the ruins, whilst the number injured is too large for computation. At the prefectural City of Lamon when the shock was being felt an enormous chasm opened in the earth and water, red in color, was thrown out from the depths. FREDERICK III.

Frederick, the third King of Prussia, and Emperor of Germany designated up to yesterday as the Crown Prince was born on October 18th, 1831. His earnest character and eminent talents were early developed under the care of excellent masters, among others Ernest Curtius who also accompanied him to the University of Bonn where the Prince was matriculated in the law faculty. After the completion of his education the Prince visited several foreign countries, among others, England, where he became attached to the Princess Royal, eldest daughter of Queen Victoria and was married to her on the 25th day of January 1858, with the highest approbation of both nations. Of the issue of this union there are now living two sons (the eldest, Frederick William, now Crown Prince, born 27th January, 1859) and four daughters. The present Emperor, as Crown Prince, took part in the more important affairs of state for many years. He served in the Danish campaign in a subordinate capacity; nevertheless, he gave sufficient proofs of his great ability, to cause the King to entrust to him an important—according to some the most important—task in the war with Austria in 1866, namely, the command of the left Prussian wing operating in and from Silesia. How ably the Prince played his part at Koniggratz is well known. In the Franco-German war, 1870-71, he acted a very conspicuous part as commander of the troops of Bavaria, Wurtemburg and Baden. He was present at Sedan, Aug., 1880, and was made a field marshal two days after by his father. During the late Emperor's illness, caused by an assassin's shot in 1878, his public functions were performed by the Prince. For the past few months the name of the Crown Prince has been daily brought before the public in connection with his unfortunate, and what must ultimately prove his fatal, illness. The sympathy of the whole world has gone out to the royal sufferer, and everyone has become familiar with the minutest particulars of his disease. To-day, as will be seen by reference to our despatches, he left San Remo, accompanied by his devoted wife, who is now no longer the Crown Princess, but the Empress Victoria of Germany.

CANADA MUST BE JUST.

The Montreal Board of Trade has decided not to interfere in the matters in dispute between the Winnipeg Board of Trade and the Canadian Pacific Railway in reference to the monopoly clause in the charter granted to the Pacific Railway Company in 1881. Other Boards are adopting a similar policy, some asserting that as parliament, as well as the law courts of the country, entertain diverse opinions on the subject, it would be impolitic for boards of trade, or kindred institutions, to interpose. Months ago when the subject of the monopoly clause came up for earnest discussion The Times ventured the opinion that, as the Canadian Pacific Railway Company regarded the clause, which the Manitobans now consider to be obnoxious, as the vital one in the charter, the government could not interfere with it, unless an equivalent was granted to the company. During the discussion which took place on the question in the fall of 1880, the writer heard one of the ablest lawyers in Ontario animadverting upon the charter and its provisions. That gentleman gave it as his opinion that not a sentence, paragraph or clause could be interfered with once the charter received royal assent. Personally he was hostile to the charter, as it contained clauses which would be found injurious to the country, especially to Manitoba and the Northwest; but a contract once entered into by the Dominion on one hand and the Canadian Pacific Syndicate on the other, none of its conditions or provisions could be interfered with, or broken by either of the high contracting parties, unless with the consent and approbation of the other. Whilst we sympathize with the people of Manitoba in their efforts to secure outlets for their products, by increased railway facilities, it should not be forgotten that the faith of the country is pledged to protect the Canadian Pacific Railway Company against American railways coming into that portion of the country to which the provisions of the Canadian Pacific Railway charter were intended to apply.

The crop of last year in Manitoba was an unusually large one. As compared with the preceding ten years the yield was truly phenomenal. In the early part of the season the estimated yield was placed at ten millions of bushels. The actual result far exceeds these figures. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company found themselves utterly unable to handle this immense crop as rapidly as the farmers in Manitoba desired. The company were pressed by competition in Western Ontario to supply cars to move the crop of that province. Desiring to favor Manitoba as far as possible it was decided to build a large number of box cars to be placed on the route north and west of Lake Superior. Those were kept in the service, moving grain at the rate of from eighty to one hundred cars per day. It is asserted that in this way fully six hundred box cars were utilized. It should likewise be borne in mind that farmers in Manitoba, as yet, have no granaries wherein to store their wheat. They look to the railway company to supply them with cars the moment their grain is threshed to move it to market. This we think an unreasonable demand. Along the line from Port Arthur to Calgary elevator store-houses have been erected wherein grain can be warehoused, receipts procured therefor and money thereon advanced by the banks. A nominal rate is charged for storage. To this system strong objections have also been raised. Nothing, it appears, will satisfy the inhabitants of that province short of the absolute removal of the monopoly clause from the charter, by allowing the government of Manitoba to proceed with the construction of the Red River Valley Railroad from Winnipeg to the boundary, where connection will be made with the Northern Pacific. The question of recouping the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for this breach in the contract, assuming that it is a breach, will be legislated upon in Parliament. But there must be no repudiation of Canada's responsibility to that company for acquiescing in the demands made by Manitoba. So far Canada's escutcheon is clean financially. If a bad bargain was made in 1881 it is now too late to whine over it. Our duty is to make the very best out of the position in which the country is placed. But above all faith must be kept and the country's pledges redeemed.

MATSQUI DYKING SCHEME.

There is every probability of the Matsqui dyking scheme difficulty being solved at an early date. Those of our readers interested in the scheme are familiar with the whole matter since its inception by Mr. Derby in 1878 and the assignment of his interest therein subsequently to Mr. C. B. Sword, of Riverside, who completed the work so satisfactorily to the Government's engineer, Mr. Joseph Hunter, that the Walkem-Beaven Government in Sept., 1881, issued a patent to Mr. Sword, in accordance with the terms of the Act, for a tract of land of 6,000 acres. It was believed that the dyke was so constructed that it would effectually resist the rise on the Fraser, as it was built a foot higher than any recorded high water mark. The rise of 1882, however, was greater than had hitherto been known. Weak spots were discovered in the dyke, as well as places where the water overflowed the banks. The result was that the dyke gave way in several places and the work upon which so many thousands had been expended was found to be ineffectual for the purposes for which it was intended. The lands in the district to be benefitted by the dyke were by the Act declared to be assessable for a per acreage rate, according to the situation. These assessments were payable by installments; the first of which matured on the 1st of January, 1882, were paid by some. Those declining to pay held that the dyke had not been properly constructed. After the dyke had given way and the Amendment Act of 1883 had been introduced the suit against the land owners for non-payment of assessments due was withdrawn. That Act likewise provided that no principal should be paid nor interest accrue from the date of the break until the dyke had been repaired to the satisfaction of arbitrators. In this position the work still remains. Mr. C. B. Sword, on receipt of his crown grant, assigned his interest in the assessments to an English company, who were the parties instituting the suit for the payments due already referred to. After the passage of the Amendment Act of 1883, this company laid action to recover arrearages of interest due up to 1st July, 1882, to which date the Amendment Act limited their right to charge interest. They recovered judgment under the original Act.

From the foregoing brief synopsis of the case it will be observed that capital was expended upon the work on the faith of the act of 1878, and that a foreign company relying on the same faith advanced funds on the security of the charges created by the act. It is contended that the trust of the company was justified by the verdict procured. It is to be hoped a solution to the difficulty will be reached, whereby the credit of the province will be maintained untarnished. The land owners are petitioning to be relieved from the charges created by the act of 1878. The difficulty which the assembly has now to face is to recoup the foreign capitalists the money advanced on the security of an Act passed by that body.

A company has already agreed to repair the dyke and raise it to a higher level and to have the work fully completed by the 1st of November of this year. The company are to carry out the work in accordance with the Amendment Act of 1883.

The land which Mr. Sword is to convey to the Matsqui Land Company under his agreement with them ranks amongst the very best in the province.

It is productive to an extraordinary degree, convenient to river and railway for shipping purposes and will afford homes for a large number of industrious settlers when protected from overflow by the raging Fraser.

THE EDITOR WHO KNOWS IT ALL.

The Colonist is considerably affected over what it calls, by a stretch of the imagination, The Times blunder. Perfection, we may say, has never been claimed by the latter, but at the same time we would point out to our morning contemporary the wisdom of preserving silence on this question. There is no greater journalistic blunderer on earth than the Colonist. It is only a few short weeks since the memorable criticism of "Jules Ferry, ex-President of the French Republic and M. Wilson, his son-in-law" appeared in its columns as well as an article on the day following which attempted to set it right, but made matters ten times worse. But we will not wrangle with our contemporary. When he succeeds in finding out what part of Germany Belgium is located in we will consider him worth talking to.

ASSEMBLY NOTES.

In the debate of Thursday on the present composition of the Cabinet the government were badly worsted, which is the best that their warmest friend could say for them. The opposition maintained that there was no one authorized to act as Premier in the absence of Hon. Mr. Davie and that the position of things was that, although every member of the Cabinet should resign, Mr. Davie would still be Premier of the province when he returned. The Provincial Secretary, it was established beyond contradiction, although acting as Premier, is not constitutionally authorized to do so, which is very much like saying that he is hazarding the whole legislation of the present session. It was shown also that Mr. Theo. Davie was occupying his seat in the Legislature in violation of the constitution, and the most amusing part of the whole thing was that the government made no defence of those charges. If they are violating the constitution it is an exceedingly serious matter, and if they are not, they can surely show themselves to be right. That is all that is demanded of them. Hon. Mr. Beaven says it is doubtful whether the House is legally in session and can legally be prorogued and he would not say so if he did not think it. If the House is not legally in session what will be the result?

A great deal of anxiety has recently been shown in the legislature for the secrecy of the ballot, the sequel to which is the independence of the elector. It has struck the writer that if the ballot is a good thing for the elector it would also be a good thing for the legislator. The latter is not less susceptible to influence than the former. He is in many cases less independent both in character and circumstances, as witness the present legislature, where one man has practically a majority under his thumb at all times; in other words a majority whose legislative actions are dependent solely on the eccentric movements of his little finger. And there are possibly one or two others possessing similar influence, only in a lesser degree. That they are unscrupulous enough to use it there is no question. So plain has this been of late that the names and dates could be given when one member has approached another in the Assembly and given him to understand that he should either leave his seat while a division was being taken or vote as he was directed. Neither is this of unfrequent occurrence. This looks very much as though the independence of the legislature was not sufficiently considered. It appears that while the free will of the people is so jealously guarded outside of the House it is completely forgotten inside, and is continually perverted. The only remedies which there appears to be for this state of things are to take the votes of the House by ballot, elect none to the Assembly but men independent in character and circumstances and send none there whose overwhelming influence negatives the independence of the rest and makes them mere mechanical instruments.

It is authoritatively stated that Lord Stanley, our next Governor-General will not leave for Canada until the middle of next summer. The noble Lord will speak at a meeting of the Federation League of which he is a member and a prominent supporter, on the 21st instant.

The amendment to the Scott Act proposed by the Hon. David Mills was to the effect that the government should introduce a bill removing all obstacles to the efficient working of the Scott Act. It was voted down by a large majority of those present. There were about fifty members absent.

The great mining booms of the century have occurred just ten years apart—1849 saw the California excitement; 1859 was the Pike's Peak or Colorado boom; 1859 was the Nevada boom, when the great Comstock bonanza was discovered; 1879 was the Leadville boom. If history repeats itself, then 1889 will see another great mining excitement. They seem to be preparing for it in the Northwest, for a company with a capital of $2,000,000 has just been formed in St. Paul to develope mines on the north shore of Lake Superior. British Columbia will also participate in the boom of 1889.

Italy, Austria and Great Britain are reported to have alleged that Prince Ferdinand illegally holds the throne of Bulgaria. Bismarck, speaking for Germany the other day, said the same thing. But all these Powers say they are not prepared to undertake to run the Prince out of the country. As the Bulgarians seem to be well pleased with their King, the question now is, will Russia put her threat to compel him to evacuate into execution, and if so, will it be possible for the Czar to so conduct the campaign as not to interfere with the interests of Austria? On the answer which is given to this question, depends peace or war in Europe.

Day and Night

During an acute attack of Bronchitis, a ceaseless tickling in the throat, and an exhausting, hacking cough, afflict the sufferer. Sleep is banished, and great prostration follows. This disease is also attended with Hoarseness, and sometimes Loss of Voice. It is liable to become chronic, involve the lungs, and terminate fatally. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral affords speedy relief and cure in cases of Bronchitis. It controls the disposition to cough, and induces refreshing sleep.

I have been a practising physician for twenty-four years, and, for the past twelve, have suffered from annual attacks of Bronchitis. After exhausting all the usual remedies

Without Relief,

I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It effected a speedy cure.—G. Stoveall, M. D., Carrollton, Miss.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is decidedly the best remedy, within my knowledge, for chronic Bronchitis, and all lung diseases. —M. A. Rust, M. D., South Paris, Me.

I was attacked, last winter, with a severe Cold, which grew worse and settled on my Lungs. By night sweats I was reduced almost to a skeleton. My Cough was incessant, and I frequently spit blood. My physician told me to give up business, or I would not live a month. After taking various remedies without relief, I was finally two bottles of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I am now in perfect health, and able to resume business, after having been pronounced incurable with Consumption.—S. P. Henderson, Saulsburgh, Penn.

Cured By Using

For years I was in a decline. I had weak lungs, and suffered from Bronchitis and Catarrh. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral restored me to health, and I have been for a long time comparatively vigorous. In case of a sudden cold I always resort to the Pectoral, and find speedy relief.—Edward E. Curtis, Rutland, Vt.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Bronchitis. The physician attending me became fearful that the disease would terminate in Pneumonia. After trying various medicines, without benefit, he prescribed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved me at once. I continued to take this medicine, and was cured. —Ernest Colton, Logansport, Ind. tf

JUSTICE VERSUS MIGHT.

[Written for The Times.]

Come, rally boys, come rally, and this watchword pass along,
In unity there's strength to right the most oppressive wrong:
Then join together as one man, ye injured sons of toil,
For the just reward of labor and freedom of the soil.
These are the natural rights of man which no one can deny,
Except with subtle argument that's based upon a lie.
Undaunted, then, fill up your ranks, no matter who may say
That might is right, ordained divine to steal, oppress or slay.

CHORUS.

Then rally, boys, rally, rally for the fight
Victory is certain if you will unite;
"Unity" 's the war cry; pass it down the line;
Every voice will echo, "justice is divine!"

How all tyrants then will tremble to see the flag unfurled,
Which bears the motto "Unity with Justice" in this world;
For Kings and Dukes and Marquises may truly fear the day
When this flag above united ranks you fearlessly display;
Monopolists will quake with fear, and railroad magnates shake,
To think they can no longer make a million dollar stake.
The secret of the despot's power has always been discord,
For faction fight and petty strifes full soon create a lord.

Contention's bone's a weapon that an autocrat can wield,
For it has whipped the sons of toil on every battle-field;
It is the bone the lawyers pick—it fills their larder well;
For its sweetmeat they sell their tongues a thousand lies to tell.
'Tis horse the politician rides, fat office to procure,
And what he uses for a bait poor voters to allure;
But, when he gets his sinecure he does not care a cent
About his old constituents, their praise or discontent.

He then leaves off the winning smile that he did once affect,
And hands he shook as candidate he shuns when he's elect;
His eyesight now seems troubled with some dark and fell disease,
When friends upon the street he meets, their nod he never sees;
Now that his office is obtained, he soon becomes so proud,
No more your humble servant, but a cock that crows aloud;
For his living now is certain, drawn from the public tax
That's wrested from the toilers, wage by laws that are not lax.

Then join ye, join ye as one man, turn not to right or left,
Let not by petty jealousies your solid ranks be cleft;
Draft out the laws and principles you want your man to hold,
And if he swears to stick by them, then let him be enrolled
Your servant to the highest court that represents the land,
And, if when there he proves untrue to that which you have planned,
A disobedient servant, and a turncoat advocate,
A requisition send him that his seat he must vacate.

Men! never sell your birthright for a paltry glass of beer,
Don't give your vote for bribe of gold or politician's leer;
Remember cents accumulate to make the millionaire,
And many votes in unity may all your ills repair.
The root where all the evil lies is ownership in land,
Against which all with one accord must make a solid stand;
Land is a natural element, without which none can live—
A product man did not create, hence has no power to give.

'Tis heritage of every man that's born upon this earth,
As well to many millions more who have not yet had birth;
Not one man nor yet a thousand have title to bestow
One foot of that which we call earth, from whence all products flow,
To one man or corporation, to be by them controlled
As absolute possessors, with deeds of a freehold;
But if you grant they have this right, you need no more complain—
By this you forge and sharp the sword that all your rights have slain.

For men who do possess the land from which we all exist,
Can make whatever terms they like, and on them may insist
With those who have not got a foot of soil on which to stand,
Much less enough to raise their food, hence get it second-hand
From those who own this only source from which wealth can be drawn.
No wonder laborers get scared and on the landlords fawn;
For men must all be fed and clothed or else they soon would die,
And they who hold the source of these it others can deny.

As men would rather live than die, this gives the landlord power
To pay in wage whate'er he likes, and make his brothers cower.
So long as ere this system lasts reforms are little use,
They only right the wrong awhile, then end in an abuse.
Might just as easy dry the sea by pumping on dry land;
Back to the ancient reservoir 'twould flow on every hand;
So produce all returns to land in spite of every law,
Or owners of it; 'tis the same, and here you'll find the flaw.

'Tis land that makes the millionaire, and gives him gold to buy
Both the voters and the members who do our cause belie.
If there's any courage in you, put shoulders to the wheel,
Break through these bonds of tyranny, no longer to them kneel;
Let every man do all he can to help the cause along;
Let all argue and debate it, and sound it like a gong,
Till all toiling millions hear it, and rush to join our band
With a shout whose mighty chorus wi'l ring through every land.

Oh! then rouse yourselves my brother, and let it not be said,
You gave the politicians power to steal your children's bread;
No longer let them dupe you with their spiced and flowery talk,
Whose only object is to blind, and combinations balk.
Then organize, ye laborers, now glorify your name,
That children's children may not cry in serfdom to your shame;
For this is what they'll surely do if you do not unite,
And vote the freedom of the soil, and laborer his right.
—A Laborer.

How Men Die.

If we know all the methods of approach adopted by an enemy we are the better enabled to ward off the danger and postpone the moment when surrender becomes inevitable. In many instances the inherent strength of the body suffices to enable it to oppose the tendency toward death. Many, however, have lost these forces to such an extent that there is little or no help. In other cases a little aid to the weakened Lungs will make all the difference between sudden death and many years of useful life. Upon the first symptoms of a Cough, Cold or any trouble of the Throat or Lungs, give that old and well known remedy—Boschee's German Syrup, a careful trial. It will prove what thousands say of it to be, the "benefactor of any home." *

On Advertising Doctors.

"I am glad the doctor cured him; I am glad the doctor put it into the paper that he could cure him. And if any doctor is certain that he can cure such diseases and don't put it into the paper, I am sorry. What a pity it would have been had this doctor came to town with his wealth of science and experience and gone away leaving him uncured! What a pity it would have been if he had been so prejudiced against advertising as to read the responsible certificates of the doctor and give him the go-by as a quack! What are newspapers for if not to circulate information? What more valuable information can a newspaper give than to tell a sick man where he can be cured? If a man has devoted his life and labor to the study of a special class of diseases, the necessity of saying so becomes all the more pressing. His duty to advertise becomes imperious. A really able man, whatever may be his gifts, makes a great mistake if he fails to use those gifts through want of advertising.

The above extract from an able article by the Rev. Mr. Beecher embodies a sound view of the subject of advertising. Suppose the Drs. Darrin had come to the city and not advertised, who would know of their presence? Who would know of the following almost miraculous cures had they not put their testimonials in the paper? Testimonials are almost daily received from far and near. The following few speak volumes for the doctors:

SCIATIC RHEUMATISM CURED.

Mr. Editor—Dear Sir: For nearly a year have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism and was so bad as to be unable to sit upon a chair or to get around, and suffered tortures indescribable. I came to the Drs. Darrin, Seattle, W. T., and went under their electro-magnetic treatment and home treatment. I now consider myself entirely cured. Can be referred to at Port Blakely, W. T.

S. F. Hoskinson.

WONDERFUL RESTORATION OF HEARING

To the public:—My little boy has been deaf since he was 16 months old, and was so deaf that he has never learned to talk and is now 5 years old. I had consulted a great many physicians and none could do anything for him and said that his hearing could never be restored. As a last hope I consulted the Drs. Darrin, at the International hotel, Cherry street, in the case and they said they could cure him. Now, after three treatments, the child's hearing is almost entirely restored, and he seems to be dazed by the sound. Through thankfulness and gratitude to the doctors, and for the sake of others that may be afflicted, I give this testimonial to the public. I can be referred to at the corner of Front and Pine streets, Seattle, W. T.

Mrs. Mevie Gerfort.

DEFECTIVE VISION CURED IN TWO OPERATIONS.

To the Public: I am not in the habit of puffing advertising doctors, but the wonderful and almost miraculous cure of my affliction prompts me in signing my name to this card for the benefit of others, as well as for the doctor. I am 18 years old, and have been cross eyed since a child, both eyes being turned in so far as to nearly hide the pupil and to seriously interfere with my vision. After two operations by Drs. Darrin of 30 seconds my eye was made perfectly straight. I can be referred to at the Columbia house, Seattle, W. T., and hundreds who know me can vouch for the above.

Eula Gregg.

FIRST HEALTH IN YEARS.

Mr. Editor: Dear Sir—For over a year I have been afflicted with liver and kidney trouble, accompanied by a stomach difficulty, with great bloating of the abdomen, etc., and for over six years I have not had a good night's sleep. I have been under the treatment of most every doctor in the country, but without relief. As a last hope I was persuaded to consult the Drs. Darrin. After the first treatment I felt instantaneous relief, and now after a thorough course of their electro-magnetic treatment I am entirely well, and for the first time in years enjoy perfect health. I gladly recommend the doctors to the public, as their ability to perform cures is without a question, as I saw many others cured while under treatment.

E. L. Strahl.

ASTHMA AND OPIUM HABIT CURED.

Mr. Editor: Dear Sir—I have been troubled with asthma for the past thirteen months, so bad as not to be able to do a day's work, and have suffered the "torments of the damned." The paroxysms were so severe that my life was many times thought to be despaired of. I had tried everything, and a great many physicians. In order to get relief I had to resort to morphine, until I had contracted the habit. I finally consulted the Drs. Darrin, at the International hotel, Cherry street, and they said that I could be cured. I put myself under their electro-magnetic treatment. Now after seven treatments, I am entirely cured of my asthma and the morphine habit, and I have no craving for the drug. I can be referred to at the McKenzie house, foot of Marion street, Seattle, W. T.

H. A. Johnson.

DEAFNESS AND DISCHARGING EARS CURED.

To the Public: I have been troubled with deafness and a discharge of one ear for over 20 years and have tried everything. I placed myself under the Drs. Darrin's electro-magnetic treatment and I am now cured of my long standing trouble. I cheerfully recommend the doctors to afflicted humanity. Can be referred to at Stuck Junction, W. T.

John Wolflin.

OVERFLOWING TEARS CHECKED.

To the Public: For a number of years I have been troubled with over-flowing tears down my cheeks, and have been operated on a number of times by a physician, without success. Called on the Drs. Darrin, at the International hotel, Cherry street, and they operated on my eye, and I now feel great relief for the first time in fourteen years. I can be referred to at 1381 Railroad Street, Tacoma, W. T.

Mrs. A. J. Quentel.

DOCTORS' TERMS FOR TREATMENT.

Drs. Darrin can be consulted free at the International Hotel, Cherry street, between Second and Third, and will under no circumstances take a case that they are positive they cannot cure or benefit. Charges are reasonable and the poor treated free from 9 to 10 a.m., Tuesdays and Saturdays.

Office hours from 10 to 5; evenings 7 to 8; Sundays 10 to 12.

They cure permanently all diseases of the genito urinary organs, in either sex, and make a specialty of deafness and catarrh, and also treat successfully all diseases of the nose and throat, eye and ear, etc., as well as all acute and chronic diseases of whatever name or nature, if curable. No cases taken if not.

Cross-eyes straightened in 1 to 10 minutes.

Youthful indiscretion and loss of manhood, seminal weakness, loss of desire of sexual power in man or woman, are successfully treated by the electro-magnetic system.

Most cases can receive home treatment after a few days at the doctors' office.

Drs. Darrin have a system of home treatment for patients living at a distance, thus saving them time and expense, by writing symptoms, age, sex, etc. Inquiries answered. Circulars sent free.

Unlike other physicians who have become eminent in their profession, the doctors' charges are extremely moderate, being only ten dollars for six treatments of such disease, or in that proportion, as the case may require.

Circulars sent free to any address. Inquiries answered.

Odd Fellows' Social.

The last of a number of very pleasant socials which have been given by the Odd Fellows during the winter season was held in the I.O.O.F. hall last evening. About fifty couples were present, who voted the occasion one and all the most enjoyable affair of the season. Refreshments were served during the evening. Music was furnished by the Queen City Orchestra in an acceptable manner. The company broke up at 12:30 a. m.

Canadian vs. American Oil.

In the House of Commons a few nights ago Mr. Moncrieff made a speech on the subject of the Canadian oil industry. He claimed that not only was Canadian made oil better than American, but that our people are actually buying cheaper oil to-day than was the case before the N. P. came into force. All the Canadian oil used in this market does not amount to a car load every three months. This is not as it should be. It is a mere matter of prejudice with consumers, who still favor the American product.

Sir John's Table.

A Wesleyan Methodist Minister a few days since in Toronto, whilst extolling Sir John Macdonald's many virtues, asserted that for months past liquor has been completely abolished from the house of the Knight of Earnscliff. This statement is contradicted. The sincere interest manifested by Sir John in the recent revival services has probably led over enthusiastic temperance friends to spread this report. Although he has become personally an abstainer he does not carry his views to the extent of depriving his guests of wine if they desire it.

Washington Central Railway.

A company has been organized to construct another railway—the Washington Territory Central—across the borders has been organized. It is intended to construct the road from Cheney or Spokane Falls, probably the former place, to the Big Bend and Salmon River countries. It will thus tap one of the richest and most extensive agricultural districts in the territory, as well as the most promising mining district in the northwest, and make their products tributary to Tacoma. Between 100 and 200 miles will be built this season and work be pushed so as to have the road in operation in time for marketing the wheat crop. The road cannot but be a paying enterprise from the start.

An Affecting Incident.

From the House of Commons, Ottawa, an affecting incident is reported. Hon. Alexander Mackenzie rose in his place to make a suggestion to Sir Charles Tupper that the interference of foreign ministers should not be invited. Although Mr. Mackenzie had been in his seat daily for a week he had never ventured to speak before, and it was with difficulty he got to his feet. He made an effort to speak but the organs refused to articulate and he was so weak that he partially fell back into his chair, but holding on the desk managed to get up again. Mr. Charlton, who was near, held him by the arm, and in that position he struggled hard to give expression to his views. At first his voice could be heard, but gradually it sank to a whisper and finally could not be heard at all. A breathless stillness prevailed in the chamber, every ear being strained to catch the words of the once vigorous leader. When he sank back into his chair much applause followed from both sides. It was a solemn occasion, one rarely ever occuring in a deliberative assembly. General sympathy is expressed for Mr. Mackenzie.

A Small Affair.

A paragraph appears in this morning's Colonist which displays the animus of that sheet towards the Canadian Pacific Railway in a very marked manner. The article is based on information supplied by Messrs. Turner, Beeton & Co., relative to a consignment of goods received by that firm from Britain, in which it is claimed the charges are excessive. The facts are that the shipment came on a through bill of lading, issued by the ocean steamship line, in connection with the Grand Trunk and Northern Pacific Railway. The firm named have no contract with the Canadian Pacific Railway, and it is a mystery how this shipment came to be handed over to the Canadian line. No mention was made as to the classification of the goods nor the rates to be charged. It is a well known fact that the C. P. R. willingly grants rebates on all over-charges. Messrs. Turner, Beeton & Co., in this respect will be treated like all other customers and those patronizing that line. The assertion of the Colonist that the excess charge was made because the O. R. & N. Co. lease the wharf belonging to Messrs. Turner, Beeton & Co., is not only puerile but foolish. Nothing better, however, is to be expected from that journal.

A DISTINGUISHED PARTY

To Reach Victoria To-Night Accompanied by Mr. W. C. Van Horne.

Vice President and General Manager, Mr. W. C. Van Horne, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, accompanied by a party of distinguished gentleman will reach Victoria to-night from Vancouver by the Princess Louise. They reached the terminal city by special train consisting of three official cars, a dining and baggage car. The Saskatchewan was occupied by Mr. Van Horne, G. T. Blackstock, J. Blickendenfer, W. Cassels, Q. C., Toronto; E. P. Hanniford, chief engineer of the Grand Trunk railway, and W. George Bury, Mr. Van Horne's secretary. The Jamaica was occupied by the arbitrators, Chancellor Boyd, of Toronto; T. C Keefer, C. E., of Ottawa; C. C. Gregory, of Nova Scotia; N. F. McLeod, Government engineer, and L. K. Jones, secretary. Those who enjoyed the comforts of the Ottawa were Hon. J. W. Trutch, B. B Osler, Q. C., of Toronto, and W. D. Hogg, Q. C., of Ottawa, who are also connected with the arbitration.

The party left Montreal on Friday, the 2nd inst., and visit this province in connection with the famous Onderdonk contract extending from Kamloops to Port Moody which, it is contended, was not handed over in a properly completed and finished condition, and the company had therefore to spend a large amount of money to complete it. The ground will be thoroughly looked over by the arbitrators, and the arbitration will likely be held in the east. Mr. Keefer represents the company on the board, Mr. Gregory the Government, and Chancellor Boyd is the third member and its chairman. It is likely they will not remain long in Victoria, leaving probably on Monday night.

KOOTENAY NEWS.

Latest News from Kootenay—Early Spring and the New Canal.

A gentleman who arrived yesterday from Kootenay reports an early spring in that region. In January they had some extremely cold weather and about 18 inches of snow. In the last week of January the warm chinook winds began to blow and on 12th February plowing was already in full swing around the Columbia Lakes.

There is comparatively very little snow in the Rocky and Selkirk mountains, and the warm weather commencing so early and causing the snow to melt gradually will, it is expected, result in a low stage of water in the Columbia and Kootenay rivers which, desirable as it may be in other respects, will probably curtail the navigable season of the Columbia, which, in the absence of a wagon road to Golden, (C. P. R.) is the only channel of communication with the outer world. The steamer question appears also to be in an unsatisfactory condition. Report had it that at least three new steamboats were to be placed on the Columbia from Golden up, the big business done last year having shown people what might be one in this respect. But so far nothing has been done in the way of commencing the hulls.

All freight matters seem to be still in a state of confusion, a good deal of valuable machinery lying about exposed to rain and snow along the river and roadside. Stores are springing up at the chief points there. Windermere is said to be getting a second store on Canal Flat in view of the approaching work on the canal between the Kootenay River and Columbia Lake, and the requirements of a considerably increased travel. Three persons are reported to be proposing to start stores; the Company's store will most likely be the largest. Work on Canal Flat has been going on for the Company all winter, two contractors getting out half a million feet of logs, mostly required for the lock, some of which has already passed through the steam mill the Kootenay Valley Company erected on the spot last fall. The canal and lock will be the first of the kind in the province, but it is a pity and people are laughing generally about it, that common sense should be set at such defiance in this pioneer canal and lock. In all other canals the world over the lock is smaller in width than the canal itself, but here in this British Columbia (before Christ) canal the opposite is the case and the lock is the larger of the two, besides being of a length (100 feet) quite out of proportion with the requirements of navigation. As the canal becomes the actual property of the province after completion by the Company, it seems a pity that such a grotesque misbirth should be allowed to cast ridicule on the Government and engineers of the province.

The new wagon roads are in many places in a bad condition, large cave-ins, particularly near the new bridge on Canal Flat, having recently occurred, but the road boss is believed to be on the way up with a force of men to mend matters.

The Indians are reported to be quiet but highly dissatisfied with the land settlement, and the settlers are all most anxious that the Mounted Police should remain in the valley and the hope is generally expressed that Colonel Baker will move a resolution in the local Legislature requesting the Dominion Government to keep the force in the Valley. British Columbia has the same rights in this respect as the Northwest Territory.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

[Before Hon. A. N. Richards, Q.C.]

C. W. Jenkinson was in the police court to-day on remand for allowing a bonfire on the street.

His Honor considered that the fire on the street for the purpose of burning rubbish was certainly wrong. His Honor would look for authority on the subject.

Mr. Jenkinson said he would like to have the summons dismissed as there was no intention on his part to light a fire, and it was made by a Chinaman. A bonfire was an act of public rejoicing and he had been a member of the fire department for many years, and was willing to comply with the by-laws.

His Honor adjourned the case for one week.

A charge against H. J. Hansen for depositing building material on a street, was withdrawn.

Billy, a Hydah, was fined $5 or one week for being drunk.

The Late J. H. McTavish.

The late Mr. J. H. McTavish, whose sudden death occurred on March 5th, was born in Grafton, Ont., and was in his 50th year. He entered the service of the Hudson's Bay Company in 1856, spending a year in the Lake Superior district. On May 24th, 1857, he came to Fort Garry, and has lived here continuously since that time, with the exception of one year, when he wintered at Norway House. He was employed as clerk and accountant, and afterwards became factor and chief factor of Red river district. He was an admirable official, thoroughly acquainted with the geography and requirements of the country, and is said to have been one of the most popular officers the company ever had. It was during his connection with the company that he was thrown into contact with Sir Donald Smith, and the two remained staunch friends for very many years. When Sir Donald entered upon his connection with the C. P. R. Company, Mr. McTavish received the appointment of land commissioner of the road, and in that capacity labored earnestly not only to advance the interests of the company, but also to secure the development of the country. But recently he resigned from the position, and was succeeded by Mr. L. A. Hamilton.
